Head of Events and Experiences, Vitality

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Head of Events and Experiences role at Vitality. For the past six years I have run live events at scale at BLAST, most recently leading a six-person department, and I would like to bring that to a wider events portfolio.

At BLAST my department delivered 60+ flagship events and 300+ qualifiers across 13 countries, in person and online, working with more than 2,000 freelancers and over €12m in budgets. I booked, contracted and managed those suppliers, approved invoices, and wrote the business case for a departmental OPEX budget covering equipment, software and cross-event costs.

I also rebuilt how the team worked, with clearer ownership, accountability and proper documentation, and built our own tools to track events, equipment, bookings and budgets. That is the kind of foundation I would want for a Centre of Excellence: consistent standards that a team can follow, and numbers you can see.

My background is esports and broadcast rather than corporate events, and I know that is a change of setting. What carries across is the discipline of running complex events to budget, with strong supplier relationships and a team that knows what good looks like. I would be glad to talk about how that could work for Vitality.

Yours sincerely,

Tim Everard
